LawBase Announces Team Growth with Additions to Sales and Marketing

Company hires software sales industry veteran and experienced marketing brand expert

DENVER – February 19, 2014 – LawBase, the leading case and matter management system designed to increase productivity, today announced the growth of their team with the additions of an industry veteran in software sales and an experienced brand expert.

Jim Stewart joins the company to help with the promotion and sales of LawBase and has over 20 years of experience in the legal market. Prior to LawBase, Stewart has helped to provide a variety of software solutions to the legal community.

Susan Ficca joins the company as a design and brand expert. She will work with company executives and the marketing team on the development and design of out-facing company materials. Prior to joining LawBase, Ficca worked at Dex One.

“We are happy to have both Susan and Jim join our team,” said Phil Homburger, president of LawBase. “They both bring an expertise to the company that will help us as we move into 2014. I look forward to working closely with both of them.”

LawBase is headquartered in Denver, where both employees will be based.
