LawBase Announces iTimeKeep Integration, Offers Webinar
Leading case management tool now integrates with legal time entry app

Denver, CO – July 10, 2013 – LawBase®, the leading case and matter management system designed to increase productivity, today announced its integration with Bellefield’s iTimeKeep, the highest rated app for legal time entry in the Apple App Store.

The companies are offering a webinar for LawBase clients and other interested parties to explore iTimeKeep and its integration with LawBase. The webinars will be held on July 15 and 19 from 10:00-11:00 AM and 1:00-2:00 PM EDT, respectively.

“This is a seamless integration that allows remote time entry for LawBase users from iPhones, iPads, Androids, and Blackberries,” stated Phil Homburger, President of LawBase. “We are happy to offer this additional capability to our users and look forward to showing them how the products work together to help them manage their time entries during the webinars being offered.”

Limited space is available for the webinars. Registration information is available at
For July 15th at 10a <https://www3.gotomeeting.com/register/644764142>
For July 19th at 1p <https://www3.gotomeeting.com/register/257438470>

About Bellefield iTimeKeep

Bellefield is a legal technology company solely focused on the development and delivery of enterprise mobile solutions for law firms and legal departments. iTimeKeep seamlessly integrates with a law firm’s time and billing system, allowing attorneys to capture time with their mobile devices from anywhere in the world. iTimeKeep is currently used by thousands of attorneys, reducing time leakage and increasing time velocity and accuracy. Over 90 percent of attorneys enter time the same day or day after the work was done when iTimeKeep is their go-to app.
