LawBase Adds New Account Director to Team of Experts

Mark Seckinger comes to LawBase with extensive experience in the legal technology industry

DENVER – November 18, 2014 – LawBase, the leading case and matter management system in the legal industry, today announced that Mark Seckinger has joined the company as an account director. In this role Seckinger will consult with current and prospective clients as well as help the company overall with the promotion and sale of LawBase to law firms, corporate legal departments and government agencies nationwide.

“We are thrilled to have Mark join our company,” stated Phil Homburger, president of LawBase. “I’ve known Mark for many years and believe that his extensive background in this industry, along with his in-depth knowledge of what our users need, makes him a great addition to our team.”

Prior to joining LawBase, Seckinger was with DocAuto, where he was responsible for regional sales and channel management. He was also a regional sales manager at Omega Legal Systems, where he worked closely with mid-sized firms across the country. He holds a Bachelor of Science degree from Northern Illinois University.

Seckinger will be based in Phoenix.
